PMI-CTT WATER BOTTLE
HAS TRAVEL WITH

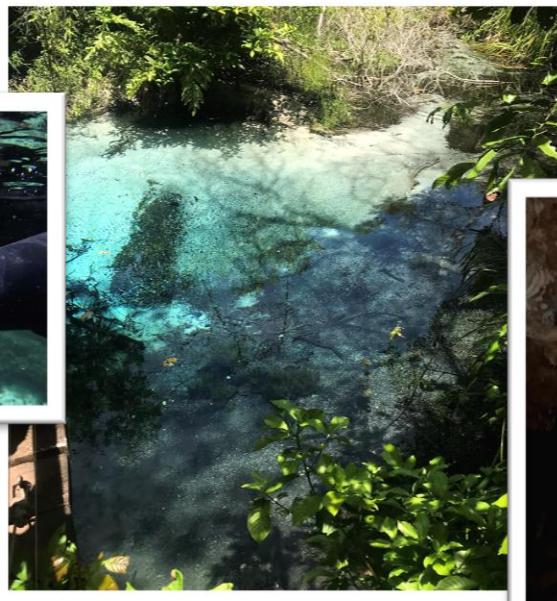

CAMILA MARTINS

Project Manager

“The PMI-CTT water bottle travelled with me to a very turistic city here in Brazil called BONITO. Known by its amazing blue lakes, caves and waterfalls, Bonito is worth it's name. I travelled there with my husband and son while taking a break from the current Project.”

Floatation in Sucuri River, a headwater and rock formations inside a Cave.

Camila Martins has been a volunteer in PMI-CTT for more than one year, working remotely from Brazil. Her desire to practice English and help our community has opened lots of opportunities for her – both in Canada and in Brazil.

She wishes to come back to Canada someday but she's also very happy with her current role as a project manager in an international software Solutions for Industry 4.0 company called Sequor, part of SNEF Group . “Volunteering for the PMI CTT chapter is a way to work in both places I love”, she says.

Her current projects include solutions based in international standards of automation for companies in Brazil, The USA and France. She considers her biggest challenge to adjust each project for each country without compromising the product. She handles cultural differences to deliver the right value for each of them, on time and within budget!
