Member Profile – Ann Cesar, PMI-PBA

A PMI Business Analyst Professional, Ann has been associated with the field of project management for the past 20 years, working in both the food and higher ed industries. She is currently working at the University of Guelph on an institution-wide data strategy program. This project has allowed Ann to utilize her strengths in both project management and business analysis, as she has been engaging with multiple stakeholders understanding the current state for data and analytics at the University and helping to outline a future ideal state. Ann is a member of the UofG's IT PMO – which is a team of both project managers and business analysts.

Ann joined PMI-CTT earlier this year as a volunteer supporting our website administration. Now, she is helping to lead the PMI-CTT's website modernization initiative.

Travel Story

Earlier this year Ann travelled to London, UK to visit her sister and her sister's new baby (nothing like a visit from Auntie!). While there, Ann took in some of London's sites, including Camden Market and riding the Tube.
